GM Marketplace

The GM Marketplace shows all public projects on green[::]match.

- Project sellers can add valuator projects to the marketplace to find interested buyers.
- Project buyers can search and open projects and contact the project seller.

Where can I find the GM Marketplace?

You can find the GM Marketplace by clicking on the Marketplace icon in the product navigation. Here you can see all public projects.

How can I share a project with the GM Marketplace?

You can share your Valuator projects with write access ("Contributor" access rights) on the GM Marketplace. Simply click on the "Share with Marketplace" icon besides the corresponding project in your Valuator project list.

 Projects shared on the GM Marketplace can be seen by all green[::]match users.

How can I delete a project from the GM Marketplace?

Click on "Remove from Marketplace" besides the corresponding project in your Valuator project list.

 When you remove a project from the GM Marketplace the access rights of those users who added this project to their project list remain unchanged. To delete the access rights of these users you have to go to the "Access Rights" in the "Master" section of the corresponding project (Compare - How can I delete existing access rights?).

How can I open a project from the GM Marketplace?

When you are interested in a project from the GM Marketplace click on "Add to my Projects" besides the corresponding project. You can now open this project directly from the Marketplace or from your Valuator project list.

Who can see which projects on the Marketplace I opened?

When you open a project from the GM Marketplace you can see the project seller/s (users with access right "Contributor") but not the other interested users (users with access right "Guest"). Only the project seller can see all interested parties.
